Purpose:

The purpose of this letter is to provide local workforce investment areas with guidance regarding the use of self-attestation for program eligibility. Self-attestation is used in those cases where a customer applying for WIA services is unable to produce any documentation to support an element or elements of program eligibility.

Training and Employment Guidance Letter No. 28-11; Subject: Program year 2011/Fiscal Year 2012 Performance Reporting and Data Validation; Dated: May 9, 2012

Use of Self-Attestation for Program Eligibility:

Self-attestation should be used as an exception rather than as the rule when completing the eligibility process. Self-attestation is not for the convenience of the individual conducting the eligibility process. Only in those cases where the customer applying for services is unable to provide documentation to support an element of program eligibility, then self-attestation can be used.

Staff involved in the eligibility process should avoid using self-attestation for items staff can obtain through outside sources (citizenship/right to work, TANF, SNAP and selective service compliance).

Staff should use the Self-Certification form contained in the WIA Eligibility Guidance; this document requires signatures and dates to be considered complete. Failure to properly complete the Self-Certification form could result in the customer being determined ineligible and the resulting costs questioned for possible disallowance.
Staff should not sign any document attesting to the truthfulness of the document. Staff serves as witnesses to the document being completed, not to the truthfulness of the customer applying for services.

VCCS Monitors review eligibility and will review customer files where self-attestation was used to determine the frequency of use and the completeness of the forms.

Additional Requirements Associated with the Use of Self-Attestation (Self-Certification):

The use of self-attestation requires LWIAs incorporate a random sampling methodology to determine the accuracy of the self-attestation method for determining WIA eligibility.

Self-Certification Accepted in Extreme Circumstances:

Staff members may accept self-certification from a client who has experienced a loss of documentation due to:

- Natural or man-made disaster such as fire, flood, tornado
- Eviction from residence resulting in loss of supporting documentation
- Client is fleeing or has fled an abusive or untenable home situation

This is not a comprehensive list; staff members must evaluate the client’s circumstances to determine if self-certification is allowable due to an extreme situation and document the client’s situation on the Self-Certification Form and in VaWC Case Notes.

It is determined that self-certification due to the client’s circumstances is appropriate; the client is still responsible for providing eligibility documentation that is available to them. If self-certification due to extreme circumstances is necessary, the staff member should refer the individual to the appropriate agencies to obtain his or her documentation.

The following list, while not comprehensive, may be useful in this effort:

Telephone/Document Inspection Verification Requirements
Self-Certification Requirements

After review of the eligibility criteria, along with possible ways to verify the criteria, it was determined that much of the verification was readily available through a number of agencies or sources. In some cases, definitive verification is required; for example eligibility to work (I-9 requirements under IRCA) and Selective Service Registration or exemption for males.

WIA allows for self-certification to verify those eligibility items that in rare cases are not verifiable or may cause undue hardship for applicants to obtain. Self-certification will also be allowed when customers have experienced a loss of documentation due to extreme circumstances.

Because most eligibility requirements can be verified by other sources, the use of self-certification, also known as “self-attestation”, is highly restricted. Self-certification is not allowed as a verifiable source of documentation for the following:

All Categories:
- TANF/Cash Public Assistance
- SNAP (Food Stamps)
- Selective Service
- Eligible to Work
- Supported Foster Child

Youth
- Pregnant or Parenting
- School Dropout
- Offender
- Homeless or Runaway
- Serious Barriers to Employment as Identified by Local Board (5% Exception)

Dislocated Worker
- Unlikely to Return
- General Announcement of Closure

NOTE: When using the “Self-Certification” form, the “Staff Signature/Date” found in the “Certification” block must be completed. It is a local decision as to the completion of the “Reviewer’s Signature/Date”.

Telephone/Document Inspection Verification Requirements

WIA eligibility criteria may be verified by telephone contacts with recognized governmental or social service agencies, or by document inspection. The information obtained must be verified and recorded on the Telephone/Document Inspection Verification form. Information recorded must be adequate to enable a monitor or auditor to trace back to the recognized agency or the document used. Telephone verification must include the name of the agency representative providing the verification information.

In some cases, the information provided by an agency through telephone contact may be sufficient to satisfy multiple WIA eligibility criteria. For example, verification that an applicant has been determined eligible to receive TANF can satisfy the requirement for Youth program eligibility.

Verification of eligibility through document inspection is appropriate when documents cannot or may not be machine-copied.

Agencies that may assist in verifying via telephone are as follows:

- Local Schools
- Social Security Administration
- Veterans Administration
- Social Services agencies
- Medical and health facilities
- Vocational rehabilitation facilities
- Drug and alcohol rehabilitation facilities
- Housing authorities
- Homeless shelters
- Judicial agencies and institutions
- Other State and local government agencies

When WIA eligibility verification is accomplished via telephone or document inspection, Local Workforce Investment Areas are required to use a standardized form, such as the example on page two for monitoring and audit purposes.
